PROFILE

Dale Bradley is an experienced project and event organiser having working in both corporate and community projects. From national roadshows and national conferences to community shows and events, Dale has a record of highly successful outcomes.

He has led construction projects including technical fitout of an independent television studio and knows how to recruit and rely on people with expertise in the areas that he does not.

During the nineties Dale was a communication consultant and project manager for NZI Corporation organising roadshows for NZI Bank and special events for the financial sector.

He also has a proven record as a community leader having been the lay leader of the independent Howick Community Church for over 20 years. During this time Dale was project manager, drawing on many volunteers and staff to present weekly church services, annual weekend (residential) events for up to 300 people and a major Christmas Community Show and exhibition.

Dale was the founder, and served terms as the chair of The Sowers Trust which has served social needs in East Auckland for thirty years.

He also founded CrossNet Inc, a registered charity that provided support to youth and seniors in east Auckland.
