The late 80s saw Dale and Grant establish the Daybreak Pictures film production company. The early highlight was Dale’s directorial debut in Chunuk Bair, recounting New Zealand’s most significant role at Gallipoli during World War I. This debut film was nominated Best Film and Best Director in the NZ Film Awards.

Dale has gone on to direct eight feature films and take production roles in another 33 feature films and 7 television series, working throughout New Zealand, Australia, England the USA and Russia.

During this time, he has worked with top names such as Jared Harris (Mad Men), Cuba Gooding Jr, Ray Liotta, Josh Hartnett, Christopher Lloyd (Back to the Future 1,2,3), Joan Collins (Dynasty), Kelly McGillis (Top Gun), Joanna Pacula (Gorky Park), David Hasselhoff (Baywatch, Knight Rider), Emily Barclay (Suburban Mayhem), and the late New Zealand adventurer and humanitarian Sir Edmund Hillary.

Dale works as a Producer, Writer, and Director and during the last few years has established a reputation as an effective script editor working with producers and writers to achieve a completed script that meets the goals established by the stake holders.

Dale’s latest script, From Disgrace has been recognised by leading industry professionals as an example of excellent writing and funding is currently being raised for this project.

His work as a script supervisor and editor has also been acknowledged as being a high standard by both experienced and novice writers with whom he has collaborated. (References are available).
